

Imagine if, together, we could overcome the seemingly insurmountable barriers and make quality diabetes prevention and treatment services available to everyone.

Join The Merck Company Foundation, in partnership with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Office of Minority Health (OMH), to learn about an initiative that could change how we all approach diabetes care and prevention. Learn how collaboration, culturally based outreach and community-driven programs can improve patient care and help those most at-risk for diabetes take the necessary action to manage their health. Learn how you can become a part of a new alliance that will combine proven interventions into comprehensive approaches that work to close the gaps in healthcare.
